So tasty

Germans love hearty food. No wonder that you find the scent of "Thüringer Bratwurst", the traditional barbecued Sausage, in every market place. Do try a roast with potatoe dumplings and the many varieties of farmers cakes. You will always find a village or town festival to taste local specialities and buy handmade souvenirs.

Shopping

Handmade pieces of art are produced by the glassblowers of Lauscha, the porcelain painters in Meissen and Rudolstadt or the wood carvers in the "Erzgebirge". Art at often affordable prices can be bought in many galleries in Leipzig. Antiques and rare books are best found in Weimar, Leipzig and Erfurt. Altenburg is famous for playing cards.

Inns, cafés and restaurants

Value for money is important for Germans, so the local gastronomy offers a wide choice of hearty home-made meals from 5,50 € to elaborate cross-over menus from 100,- € (mostly in Weimar, Erfurt or Leipzig). Be aware of the kitchen hours from 12 pm – 14 pm and again from 18 pm – 22 pm in most locations. Coffee and cakes "Kuchen" is your choice for afternoons. You won't regret it!

Markets and Festivals

Beer is being produced in 39 breweries in Thuringia and 31 breweries in Saxony. Wine festivals in Freyburg and the Unstrut region surprise with young and ambitious winemakers. Pottery festivals often take place in smaller towns with long pottery traditions as in Waldenburg, Kohren-Sahlis and Bürgel. The "Wochenmarkt", the weekly farmers market brings country people into the towns and is an unique opportunity to get in touch with the locals.

Tip: Christmas

Go and get the original! The Christmas tree was brought to England by a princess from Thuringia. Coloured glass bangles and wood-carved figures were also invented in the region. More than a 100 Christmas markets offer a wide choice of handmade Christmas decoration and a wonderfully scented setting for your Christmas shopping. Perennial shopping is possible in Lauscha and the "Erzgebirge".
